

A STRANGE YOUNG MAN,
Who is Held in Jail for Complicity With Rube Burrows.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 16.—[Special].—
Superintendent Agee, of the Southern Express company, and five detectives arrived here tonight from Mississippi with a prisoner, sup-

The man was captured in Columbus, Miss., today by the five detectives. He gave his name as J. B. Winslow, and denied all knowledge of Rube Burrows and train robbing. He had two pistols and $160 in money when arrested.

The prisoner is a tall, slender, dark-skinned young man with a black mustache. He is neatly dressed and talks very intelligently. He admits he has no regular abiding place and no occupation.

Superintendent Agee, of the express com-

"He was the brains of the gang," said Agos, "and I would rather have him a prisoner than run him myself. He has robbed trains in Texas, Mississippi and Alabama, and robbed the express company in Alabama."

Superintendent Agos says that he knows positively he was in the Duck Hill and Bucknerville robberies, in Mississippi, eighteen months ago. He says he is not sure, but that where they will take him for trial, but are confident that they will be able to convict him in any one of the three states.

There is a reward aggregating $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of Jackson. When taken to the jail here, tonight, the prisoner could survey the place, as if looking for a chance to escape. He asked for a new pair of shoes and money and pistols, and ordered a splendid lunch. He was offered a cell, but offered to pay the turnkey to have a cell cleaned for him.

OSCAR JOHNSON'S CRIME.
The Criminal Confesses to a Brutal Series of Events.
AUGUSTA, Ga., July 16.—[Special.]—Oscar Johnson, the negro who is held for the murder of Lucinda Sims, made a complete and brutal confession today, and added to the charges against him.

He seems to have made up his mind to gratify his passion for the girl at any cost. The day before the murder he told her about his having found a pocketbook with a large sum of money in it, and that he wanted her to go with him to the place where he had buried it and count it with him, and see how much there was.

On Friday night they set out for the place, Oscar, with a razor in his pocket. On the way,

He carried the girl to a point a mile below the bridge, on the river bank. Here he made his insanity, and the recent proposal to his sister-in-law, which she had just refused. He followed a struggle, in which the girl saved herself by jumping into the river. He herself terribly beaten and outraged. Then, after wandering about awhile, he made a second attempt, and a second struggle and outcome followed, and then murder followed the assault.

After he was satisfied that the girl was dead, he started and reached his mother's house on Brayton hill, about 11 o'clock. He left the body on the bank Friday night, but before anyone appeared to suspect that his deed would be discovered, returned to the old field that night, and dragged the body to the river. When he reached the place he pressed the body upright, got over the fence, and then fled. He returned to the house, and dragged her down the banks to the river, and threw her into the stream. Oscar says he thought that the body would go on down the river, and that he would never be buried. He thought the many mysteries of this world.

The Sunday morning, he remembered the Lucinda had his room key in her pocket, so he went back to the fatal spot, and there he saw the body floating in the shallow water. He pulled off his clothes, laid them on the bank, waded out to Lucinda, tore her dress off, found the key, which had caused him considerable anxiety, as it might have been the clue that would lead to the murderer. Oscar Johnson viewed the body swimming about in the water, and left it there. He hid the dress and came on to town. The subsequent discovery of the body and the arrest of Oscar Johnson, have already been told.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 16.—Searchers found the three missing bodies of the victims of the Lake Gervais cyclone early this morning. The bodies were close together, a small portion of the lake, one hundred feet from the shore. The bodies of Charles Schurmier and Rev. M. Pfaffe were considerably mutilated, but that of Mrs. J. H. Schurmier was not disfigured.

RED WING, Minn., July 16.—Eight bodies were brought up from the scene of the Lake City disaster this morning. In the afternoon sixteen more were brought up, and one was sent out to Le Roy, Minn., and tonight another boat load arrived. There are ninety-five now in the death roll, and several others are missing still.

The bodies recovered today were in many cases bent over, livid and discolored as to be only recognizable by peculiar markings, or by the clothing.

SEVEN WERE KILLED and six wounded in the battle of Louisiana.

CRICKSBO, Miss., July 16.—Reliable persons who arrived from Bayport, La., today, say that seven negroes were killed and six wounded in the affray with a white posse near Mer Rouge yesterday. There were thirty-six negroes in the party, all of whom came here a short time ago from North Carolina. The survivors returned home with the whites. In their respects, previous accounts of the conflict are correct. Mer Rouge is twelve miles above Bayport.

HIS MANY CHECKS GOT HIM IN TROUBLE.

A DRY GOODS CLERK WHO SKIPPED.

And Who is Now Under Arrest in Savannah.

THE CAREER OF MR. THORPE.

A Gentleman From Boston Who Figured in Atlanta.

T. H. B. Thorpe, a young man well known in Atlanta, was arrested in Savannah Tuesday night.

He will be brought back to Atlanta today by Officer Jordan, who went for him last night.

Thorpe is charged with cheating and swindling, and another warrant, accusing him of obtaining goods under false pretenses, will be taken out for him as soon as he is landed in Atlanta.

A half dozen Atlanta merchants were taken in by Thorpe and a little scheme of his. Probably there are a number of others who will swell the list and add to the tale of woe when they read of Thorpe's arrest and the methods which got him into the clutches of the law.

There is quite a sensational story connected with the affair.

In it a beautiful young lady and an early wedding, that was to be, figure, as well as the confidence game and the young man's flight and subsequent arrest in Savannah.

A DRY GOODS CLERK.

Thorpe has been a popular dry goods clerk in Atlanta for some time past. He came to Atlanta from Massachusetts where, report states, he has a wife and family. This is not definitely known, but in the light of the developments for the past few days, rumors to this effect have been circulating among Thorpe's fellow workers and those who knew him.

In Atlanta Thorpe made friends easily. He is of a genial disposition, and stood high in favor with his associates, and well in the esteem of his employers.

For some time Thorpe has been paying attention to a pretty young lady and his marriage with her was set. The wedding was only a short time off and the young people were both apparently happy.

HEAVY EXPENSES.

Recently Thorpe has been spending money after freely. His salary went quickly after he drew it, and then, it is charged, he turned his attention to raising funds from a side source to supply his needs.

A few days ago it was discovered that Thorpe was misappropriating money received over the counter of the store.

He was caught up with through the sale of a pair of bathing suits. A gentleman purchased the bathing suits from the young man several days ago, paying him $12 for the pair. Thorpe reported the sale by the check of the clerk.

All might have gone well but for the fact that the bathing suit did not seem to him to be his when he had not yet sent back, and wife. Consequently, a check was requested, a refunding of $5 referred to, and the sale of the bathing suit found correctly entered. But the bathing suit, to whose credit the sale was entered, was called up, he denied all knowledge of the transaction.

Then the matter was finally traced to Thorpe. He was discharged from his crookedness, which was the first link in the chain of criminal offenses that now binds him.

BOGUS CHECKS.

Monday Thorpe seems to have begun working a regular, systematic scheme of swindle. He secured a Capital City bank check book, and going to his room signed up a lot of checks for various amounts.

Supplied with these, he began the rounds among the merchants. After buying some small article he handed a check in payment, and received the difference in cash.

In this way he got, it is estimated, in the neighborhood of one hundred dollars.

The losses are of J. P. Stevens & Bro., Swift & Harris, Geo. Mose, Fetzner's clothing store, McKenzie & Riley, Stewart & Bowden. Others may come to the front.

After securing this money Sharpe had called upon the young lady who figures in the story, and believing that his schedule was set pretty straight, he took the Central train for Savannah to take steamer for Boston or New York.

But there is "a many a slip," etc., and that's how Thorpe came to be captured.

His calculation about the schedule of the steamers leaving Savannah was wrong. Instead of leaving Tuesday the first vessel pushed off yesterday. Thorpe had played his scheme just a day too soon.

Tuesday Mr. Harris, of Swift & Harris, got wind of Thorpe's flight, and Chief Connolly was appealed to to effect his arrest.

A telegram was sent to Savannah, and later in the day word came from there that Thorpe had been arrested and would be held until an officer was sent for him.

A COMPROMISE.

Yesterday the merchants who had been losers on Thorpe's account got together and decided to let him be released provided he would return what he had taken.

Communication was entered into with Savannah through Chief Connolly, but Detective Bash, who made the arrest, declined to turn Thorpe loose. He insisted upon his prosecution and telegraphed that he would release him without any sort of settlement unless an officer was sent for him at once.

The Atlanta merchants then determined to let the law take its course, and Mr. J. P. Stevens furnished the money to bring Thorpe back to Atlanta, where he will be proceeded on a charge of cheating and swindling, and obtaining goods under false pretenses. This latter charge will be made by Mr. Stevens.

Officer Jesse Jordan left at 10 o'clock last night for Savannah, and will return tonight with Thorpe in custody.

THE SPIRITUALISTS' CAMP MEETING.

The Lookout Mountain Association Meets in Chattanooga.

The Lookout Mountain Spiritualists' association has been holding its annual camp meeting, beginning several days ago.

Colonel A. C. Ladd, a leading Spiritualist of this city, returned from Chattanooga last night, where he has been attending the meeting.

The spiritualists have magnificent grounds for their meetings, and the session this summer has been unusually large.

Colonel Ladd spoke with enthusiasm of the many beautiful manifestations that were witnessed by the various spiritualists in attendance.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Mott, of St. Louis, one of the most prominent slate-writing mediums in the country, gave some interesting exhibitions of this wonderful branch of spiritualism at the Natural Bridge hotel, in the presence of a very large audience assembled to witness the phenomena.

Besides Mrs. Mott, there were in attendance at the camp meeting many of the most eminent spiritualists in the country, and the meetings were very much enjoyed by all who attended them.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

THE ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1890 JUST ISSUED.

Quite an interesting summary of the Growth and Prosperity of Atlanta and the Country of which it is the Center.

The annual report of the Atlanta chamber of commerce has just been issued from the press.

It contains quite a lot of valuable information concerning the growth and prosperity of Georgia's capital city. It was prepared by Mr. H. G. Saunders, secretary of the association, and was very carefully gotten up.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

President Oglesby's report contained some interesting items.

The membership has increased during the year 315 members. The total increase during the existence of the chamber is from 117 to 350.

The annual income from dues has been increased from $1,170 to $3,524. The increase from rents from $3,000 to $4,050. The original bonded indebtedness of $40,000 has been reduced $7,000, leaving $33,000 and reducing the interest $900. The annual net increase amounts to $4,500 above the fixed charges of interest, taxes and insurance.

The building is estimated at worth $80,000, and the bonds outstanding represent a net cash balance of $1,225 to begin the new year. The relief committee has $130 to its credit.

The deplorable loss of Hon. Henry W. Grady and Hon. John R. Grady, who died during the year, is referred to in touching language.

Mr. Oglesby, in retiring, takes occasion to thank the members for their co-operation and sympathy, and expresses himself as ever in earnest sympathy with the work of the chamber.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARIES.

Secretary Saunders' report contains some interesting items.

The board of directors and the chamber, as a body, have considered and acted upon a number of important measures, among which was to establish the commercial ticket, the Butterworth bill to prohibit dealing in futures, important changes in the interstate commerce act, the national bankruptcy law, the world's fair site, city, county and state taxes, changes in freight classification and to establish a difference between car load and less than car load lots, appropriation by congress of $1,000,000 to establish a steamship line from Tampa to Central America, the American shipping league, protest against the compound rail bill, action requesting congress to construct a military road from Atlanta to Fort McPherson, and the road from Atlanta to the United States prison in Fulton county, the Chinese and the census bill, postal telegraph for the United States, and many others.

The receipts are put down at $13,719.25, and the disbursements at $7,900.23, leaving a balance of $5,819.02.

Of the balance on hand, $4,500 is required for bonds retired, but not yet presented, and $1,319 for accrued interest unpaid, leaving a net balance of $1,222.50.

Our fixed annual receipts are—

From dues	$1,170.00
From rents	$3,000.00
Total	$4,170.00
Our fixed annual expenditures are—
Interest on bonds	$900.00
Taxes	$270.00
Insurance and incidentals, estimated	$1,000.00
Total	$4,170.00

Our fixed annual expenditures are—

Our fixed annual expenditures are—

Briefly condensed in one page is the story of Atlanta.

ESTIMATING THE POPULATION.

The fact that the city is in a model health resort is shown by official statistics displaying her fine health record. Here is Secretary Saunders' estimate and growth of the city:

Atlanta had a population of 21,788 in 1870. Ten years later, according to the United States census, the number had increased to 37,409. At the close of 1889 the city's population is 58,533, showing an increase of over one hundred and twenty-five per cent. in the past decade. Nearly two-thirds of the people in Atlanta are white:

Population of Atlanta in 1835	6,028
" " 1850	10,000
" " 1870	21,788
" " 1880	37,409
" " 1885	49,517
" " 1888	53,812
" " 1889	58,533
" " 1890	60,946
" " 1891	68,904
" " 1892	74,076
" " 1893	82,969

BANKS AND REAL ESTATE.

Five years ago Atlanta's banking capital was $850,000. Today it is $3,517,000. In round numbers, the increase of banking capital in Atlanta during these five years has been $2,667,000. Five years ago the figures on surplus were $350,000, now the total is $800,000. The total surplus shows an increase of $450,000. The loan and discount total then was $2,400,000; now the total is $6,700,000. The loan and discount increase in the banks reaches the sum of $4,300,000.

Five years ago the deposits at the banks were $2,000,000; now they are $7,197,500.

And the total of deposits shows the marvelous increase of $5,197,500.

The following table, taken from the city tax assessors, will exhibit the growth in values of Atlanta real estate for a series of years. These figures do not represent the actual value of property. They have been compiled on the basis of about six and a half per cent. of actual market values:

Real estate returns for taxes 1852	$2,700,000
" " 1855	3,500,000
" " 1860	4,500,000
" " 1865	5,500,000
" " 1870	6,500,000
" " 1875	7,500,000
" " 1880	8,500,000
" " 1885	9,500,000
" " 1890	10,500,000
" " 1895	11,500,000
" " 1900	12,500,000

To this amount may be added non-taxable property belonging to the United States government, state of Georgia, Fulton county, city of Atlanta, church organizations, etc., $4,561,000.

Figures are given showing Atlanta's splendid educational facilities and showing that Atlanta is a city of churches. Then comes the following table showing

ATLANTA'S MANUFACTURING INTERESTS.

Establishment	Capital employed	Value produced in 1889
Foundries, machine shops, etc.	17	$2,500,000
Grain elevators, etc.	10	800,000
Carriages and harnesses	70	450,000

Paint manufacture	1	100,000
Carriers	3	80,000
Bapt. paper and books	3	350,000
Total	283	$13,102,000

In addition to these there are many other items of interest and the closing chapters of the report are devoted to Georgia at large, and contain a lot of very interesting matter.

It is a model work and contains much information of great value.

A POLICEMAN AND A FIREMAN.

They Have a Scrapping Match and the Policeman is Suspended.

The police commission held a meeting last night for the trial of Patrolman H. L. Abbott, charged with conduct unbecoming an officer.

In the latter part of June Patrolman Abbott and Fireman Simmons got into a difficulty. The policeman got the better of the fight, but last night the fireman was discharged.

Cases were made before the recorder against the men, and each fined.

Fireman Simmons preferred charges against Patrolman Abbott. The trial took up a good deal of the commission's time, and the policeman was suspended for five days to pay for his scrap with the fireman.

Hon. T. M. O'Brien represented Patrolman Abbott before the commissioners.

ABOUT THE WATER.

MAYOR GLENN MAKES AN INSPECTION AND HAS A WORD TO SAY.

People, He Says, Have Not Been Drinking Oil in the Water—No Dead Fish—The Cows That Drink Oil.

Mayor Glenn visited the waterworks reer yesterday, to satisfy himself as to the condition of the water being used by the city.

His examination very effectively exploded the sensational stories as to the impurity of the water, and proves that it is all right.

"While I was satisfied, said he, 'that there was no danger of the oil getting into the water that was used by the people in Atlanta, yet I had heard so much talk about it, and so many people had asked me, that I determined to go out and examine for myself the condition of affairs at the waterworks. I found that a small portion of the surface of the lake was covered with the cotton seed oil, but the wind had blown it up into two prongs of the lake, where by means of booms it had been confined, and about half of it had already been pumped off into barrels and brought into the city; and by Saturday night I am satisfied that all of it will be removed from the surface of the water.'

"Did any of the oil ever get into the pipes that bring the water to the city, and has any of it been used by the people of Atlanta in the water?"

"It is utterly impossible for any of this oil to have come through the pipes into the city, and all who say that they have detected the oil in the water are mistaken and only imagine it. The oil, of course, is on the surface of the pond, and the water which comes to the city is taken from the pond at least twenty feet below the surface, and not a drop of the oil has ever gone below the surface. After the water is taken from the pond it passes through the filters, and it by any possibility any of the oil had gotten into the filters, it would have been removed from the water. The water goes from the filters into a basin of clear water, and I examined that basin carefully, and not a drop of oil was on it. From this basin of clear water, the water is pumped into the city, and even here the water is taken at least ten feet below the surface. So if any oil should get on the surface it would be impossible for it to get into the pipes which convey it to the city. The superintendent and the chief engineer stated to me that if they were ordered to send some of this oil through the pipes into the city, they could not do it, as they had no means by which they could force it below the surface of the pond into the pipes."

"What about the dead fish?"

"I examined that very carefully and all reports about the fish being dead are false. I saw some of the fish, and they are as healthy as life as any I have ever seen."

"What about the oil killing cows?"

"I heard that a few cows had been made sick from drinking the oil, but I know nothing from my own knowledge about it. I understand that cows are very fond of this oil, and will drink large quantities of it. They did not drink it from the pond, but from some of the barrels that I saw."

The Woman's Industrial home; central property; large lot; $6,000 will buy this.

We have choice lots on West Peachtree, Forrest avenue, Boulevard, Pryor, Keweenaw, Cooper, Georgia avenue, Capitol avenue, Whitehall, and Smith streets. We have cheap lots on Highland avenue, Fort, Hilliard, Blackman, Martin, Little, Francis, Lovejoy, Gresham, Venable, and others. In fact, we can suit you in almost any portion of the city. We wish to impress the public mind with the fact that we are doing a strictly commission business. We do not get net prices on property and then, by cunning and sharp practice, defraud the unsuspecting purchaser by charging an exorbitant price above figures given by owner.

We propose, by fair dealing, intelligence and diligence, to win the patronage of fair minded people. Owners of property, do not fail to confer with us about selling.

DICK LATHAM'S SUIT.

HE WANTS $10,000 DAMAGES FROM THE CENTRAL RAILROAD.

He Claims That the Company Has Injured
His Good Name and Prospects
Generally.

Dick Latham, through his attorney, Colonel Thomas W. Latham, has brought suit for $10,000 against the Central Railroad and Banking company.

Dick claims that he was unjustly arrested and accused of having placed the cross-tie on the track of the road near McPherson barracks last year, which resulted in the wrecking of a train and killing of the engineer and fireman.

Later, when the watchman out near the barracks found a piece of iron on the track, Dick was arrested and put in jail by a man who claimed to be a detective, and who was working for the reward offered for the arrest of the perpetrator of these dark crimes.

Dick had no money and no friends, except Colonel Latham, who had raised him from a child, and who came to his rescue in his time of peril.

After repeated efforts to secure a trial for his client, the detective having disappeared, Colonel Latham was at last enabled to procure Dick's discharge from jail, but the latter had been greatly damaged. He had suffered much from sickness, and the fact that he had been accused of such grave crimes caused people to decline to employ him, and from having had a position at the oil mills, where he earned $1.50 per day, he was reduced to the situation of not being able to procure work of any kind, at any price, and he claims that his capacity for earning money was reduced one-half, at least.

The reason why Colonel Latham took such an interest in the case was the fact that he had been raised up on his father's Campbell county plantation with Dick, who, with his mother and brother, were the property of Colonel Latham's father. He knew that Dick had always been a sober, honest and industrious negro, and when he heard of his trouble he went at once to his rescue.

The petition sets forth that the woman and her two children, one of whom was Dick, were sold to Colonel Thomas Latham before the war, and when he died they became the property of Mr. William L. Latham. He sold the mother but kept the boys.

After the war Mrs. Latham, the mother of Colonel Thomas W. Latham, had Dick bound to her, as was often the case in those days, and she raised him up to manhood on the old plantation home. He was always a favorite servant with the family, and even after he became a white man the family always took an interest in his welfare.

And this was why Dick wanted a friend in the lawyer, through whose efforts he was enabled to come clear of the terrible charges preferred against him.

The petition avers that there was no cross-tie placed on the track, and that a defect in the rail was the cause of the accident, and that the company used every effort to secure his conviction, so as to be able to keep from paying any damage suit that might be instituted by the relatives of the men who were killed. It also claims that the detective, who was a stranger from the north, took unfair advantage of the petitioner, going with him on the streets and inducing him to drink, so that he would confess himself guilty of a crime that he had not committed.

So soon as he was released from custody, Colonel Latham, who was not content with simply having saved his client, set about securing justice for the injured man, and the damages to his character and person were fixed at $10,000, and a vigorous fight will be made for the negro by his former master.

The case in all its bearings will read very much like a romance when the end of the suit is reached.

The Fly and Ant Nuisance.
Flies and ants are quickly annihilated by mixing a teaspoonful of ROUGH ON RATS with a saucer of sweetened water; place the saucer on a suspended in the room; or mix a teaspoonful of ROUGH ON RATS with a half pound of brown sugar and sprinkle on the shelves, or on or near border of lower shelves, out of reach of children. Cut this out.

GEORGIA HORTICULTURISTS.

The Atlanta Society Invites the State
Society to Meet Here.

The Atlanta Horticultural society, by unanimous vote yesterday, decided to invite the State Horticultural society to hold its session next year in Atlanta. The session of the state society will be held this year at Port Valley, on the 30th and 31st inst. Quite a number of delegates will leave here at 3 p. m. on the 29th by the Atlanta and Florida railroad. At 1 o'clock that day the Atlanta Horticultural society will receive the delegates at the department of agriculture. Visitors go at reduced rates.

Mr. G. H. Hynds delivered a practical, common sense talk on grapes and grape culture. Interesting speeches were also made by Dr. Morrison, James Grimes, Colonel R. J. Redding, President Beattie and others.

Mrs. S. E. Davis and Mrs. A. E. Finkle were elected members.

On next Wednesday "Grapes" will be again discussed. The display yesterday was excellent. The exhibit of Concord grapes. Refreshments will be served up at the next meeting, as it will be a reunion of the members.

A SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

Mr. C. P. Cochran the Victim of a Thrilling Adventure.

Late yesterday afternoon Mr. C. P. Cochran, acting superintendent of the Fulton County Street railway company, in the absence of Superintendent Nelson, was the victim of a very thrilling adventure.

He was driving on South Pryor street when a dummy ran up behind his buggy, frightening the horse and causing him to run away.

The buggy was thrown to the ground and the coachman passed over his thigh, bruising it pretty badly. The horse ran into a barbed wire fence and tore himself up pretty badly.

Fortunately Mr. Cochran was not dangerously hurt, but the shock of the fall and his narrow escape quite unnerved him for the time.

A BIG IMPROVEMENT.

A New Public Road Being Opened Near Ponce de Leon.

The county commissioners are having a new road opened, by the chalmers, near Ponce de Leon.

The road will pass under the Richmond and Danville road, instead of over it, as at present, and the steep hill in front of the Armistead place will be avoided. The road will prove a vast improvement over the one now in existence, and will be a big benefit to the farmers.

The earlier symptoms of dyspepsia, such as distress after eating, heartburn, and occasional headaches, should not be neglected. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla if you wish to be cured of dyspepsia.

Drink Pure Water.

During the summer it is best to neutralize the disease germs contained in all the water you drink, and thus guard against disease. To do so, add a teaspoonful of King's Royal Gernetizer to half a glass of water, sweetened, if you wish, and drink. This is done, the water is pure, and not disease. Always use it during warm weather. It is a pleasant beverage, and when used with meals insures good digestion and sleep.

In Exchange for Improved City Property.

A gentleman owning 240 acres of good hawmuck land in the county of Sumter, in the state of Florida, between the Withlacoochee river and Lake Panasoffkee, with a landing upon the Withlacoochee river, would exchange the same for improved city property situated in Atlanta or any thrifty nearby town. About 75 acres of the 240 acres are set in the finest varieties of oranges and lemons and about one-third of the 75 acres comes into bearing this year.

The section of country situated between the Withlacoochee river and Lake Panasoffkee is admirably the very finest in the state of Florida for the cultivation of oranges and lemons.

Fine help to care for the grove is already in charge of the property, and arrangements can be made to transfer this help to the party who may purchase.

The gentleman who owns the property is compelled, by reason of large business engagements which claim his attention elsewhere, to place this valuable property on the market. This presents a first-class opportunity to any persons threatened with pulmonary disease to fully recuperate their health. There are parties now living in the immediate community who are living witnesses of the health giving properties of this climate for all lung diseases, one a reversed gentleman from near Atlanta. Correspondence solicited. Address "North Carolina," care Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
The Best
Blood Medicine

So say Leading Physicians and Druggists, and their opinion is endorsed by thousands cured by it of Scrofula, Eczema, Erysipelas, and other diseases of the blood.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla has won its reputation by years of valuable service to the community. It is the best."—R. S. Lang, Druggist, 222 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass.

Dr. W. F. Wright, Paw Paw Ford, Tenn. says: "In my practice, I invariably prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla for chronic diseases of the blood."

Dr. R. H. Bojre, Third and Oxford sts., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "For two years I have prescribed Ayer's Sarsaparilla in numerous instances, and I find it highly efficacious in the treatment of all disorders of the blood."

J. M. Robinson, Pharmacist, Sabina, O., certifies: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has always been a great seller. My customers think there is no blood-purifier equal to it." For many years I was afflicted with scrofulous running sores, which, at last, became so bad the doctors advised amputating one of my legs to save my life. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla and soon saw an improvement. After using only a dozen bottles the sores were healed. I continue to take a few bottles of this medicine each year, for my blood, and am no longer troubled with sores. I have tried other reputed blood-purifiers, but none does so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—D. A. Robinson, Neal, Kansas.

THE STOCK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The stock market at present is suffering from the general apathy of operators on both sides of the account. The attendance of brokers at the board and their efforts to attract business are not sufficient to overcome the general indifference, and no one seems to care which way the market goes, while room traders and professional operators move it up one day and down the next, quite irrespective of legitimate influences, which should govern the course of prices. The market is, however, the only active element in the situation, and they are afraid to increase their outstanding shorts too much. The bulls are waiting for a leader or leaders who can command a sufficient following to make a prolonged and aggressive campaign, but they do not seem to be forthcoming, and dullness and stagnation in prices result. The effects of the silver bill for the present have been seen, and the railroad situation commands most attention, especially on the part of the bears, while positive advice of the day were favorable, their possible influence was neutralized by a rumor from Washington that the interstate commission had resolved to reduce rates on grain in the west. This caused a heavy feeling in the market throughout a greater portion of the day, although it cannot be said that there was any important movement in prices because of it. Usual dullness and practical stagnation were still the ruling features, and in such stocks as St. Paul and Rock Island, which had been selected as special objects of pressure, fluctuations were scarcely one-half per cent. Reading was depressed three-fourths and Missouri Pacific one-half, which were about recovered in later dealings, when there was an effort to reconquer sales of the morning, but changes in the other stocks of the regular ten are not worthy of comment. Sugar refineries were again the special feature of the day, and after a spurt from 7 1/2 to 7 3/4, it was dropped for no apparent reason to 7 1/4, and later to 7 1/2. It, however, is the only stock traded in which shows a decline at the end of the day of more than a small fraction, its loss being 1 1/4 per cent. Silver certificates were more largely traded in, and while prices reached about 11 1/2, fluctuations were small, like those in stocks. Among the specialties, Hocking Coal, Oregon Improvement and Rio Grande Western preferred showed strength on small transactions, but the remainder were stagnant. The market, after a short period of first closing, closed about the lowest prices of the day, but only slightly changed from last evening's prices. Sales aggregated 89,000 shares of listed and 40,000 of unlisted.

porting house, the extremely low rate of freight placing July contracts, even at the premium paid, on a parity with Liverpool. Cotton delivery in August is depressed by reason of the difference in freight rates. The market closed steady at a slight recovery, with the future depending on the confirmation of the reports of rain.

HUBBARD, PRICE & CO.

Henry Clews & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, July 16.—(Special.)—The rate was raised early in the game today because Liverpool was active and higher. Manchester was strong. There was no rain in Texas as reported, and Woolfords was buying and stopping notices sent out by Railroads. The futures of the market were not long in coming to a halt. Why? Because some of the bulls, German, English and American, have been realizing on the dead end. Because rains are reported, and a small amount of rain has been reported in the last dispatch. New Orleans dropped as though struck with a sandbag, and the little fellows here on the long side were disposed to get out. Henry Clews & Co. sold December, January and February. Lehighan delivery, August early, and bought on the decline. R. H. Allen sold August freely. Mohr Hannemann sold July, August and September. Henry Hents & Co. and Hall Bros. were supporting this crop, which should be considered most carefully, though it has been reported to sell the nearby months. JOHN S. ERSKINE.
